Hi Gloria,

I reached out the contact listed on the job posting who instructed me to send her an email explaining our concerns. She assured me that she would forward my email to Laprishia Berry Vaughn, who posted the job, but I have not heard back. I can reach out to Monica.

Best,

Priscilla

Subject: Fwd: Question - CHW position Announcement

Hi Priscilla,

This just came to me from CDC. Are you aware of this? Is this something that MICHWA might want to take a position on, or even diplomatically intervene? In some states they have felt the need to defend the integrity of the definition of CHW that they have adopted. These are probably really social worker positions, but wherever they crop up, they can undermine awareness efforts by confusing people. It should not be a huge deal to get this organization to simply change the job title, but sometimes people can be offended if they think others are telling them what to do.

Best,

Carl

Hi Carl and Colleen,

I happened to see this announcement; was just curious if you would call this a CHW position or a Social Worker position? Thanks.
