

The Role of Family Network Structures and Support in Family Cancer History Collection

Principal Investigator: Caitlin G. Allen

The purpose of this study is to:

- Better understand how families talk about their health information
- Learn about opportunities to improve discussions about health histories

Contact Information

To find out more about this study, please contact:

Caitlin G. Allen, MPH

614-554-5298

Calle27@emory.edu

Participation in this study involves:

- Using an online tool to learn about family cancer history
- 75 minute video interview and survey
- You will receive up to $50 gift card for your participation

To participate in this study you must:

- Be over the age of 18